ADMINISTRATION

Sr. Susan Maxwell and Mrs. Bisignano

Sr. Kathleen Dolan

Sr. Irene Herbst

This year the Academy's administration team, headed by Sr. Susan Maxwell, is working to promote community awareness in the school. Helping Sr. Maxwell are the four heads of schools — Mrs. Judy Bisignano, head of the Primary School; Sr. Kathleen Dolan, head of the Lower School; Sr. Irene Herbst, head of the Middle School; and Sr. Loretta Somerville, head of the Upper School. Mr. Bruce Peasley, our business manager handles all business affairs and Mrs. Carol Kerr handles Admissions and Public Relations. The administration team hopes to make this year the most worthwhile ever.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees is a vital part of the Academy of the Sacred Heart. Its large responsibilities are passing and helping prepare the school's budget, with Mr. Peasley's help, and making sure the operations of the whole school run smoothly. Various committees for specific areas in the school are also set up; these include communications, recruiting, education and finance. Members of the Board are Mr. Frank Cliff, Chairman, Sr. Ann Conroy, Vice Chairman, Mrs. Sally Morgan, Secretary, Mr. Walter Fisher, Treasurer, Sr. Jean Bautz, Sr. Catherine Collins, Mr. Peter Darin, Mr. Jere Gillette, Mr. Paul Lorenz, Sr. Joan Magnetti, Sr. Gail O'Donnell, and Sr. Susan Maxwell.

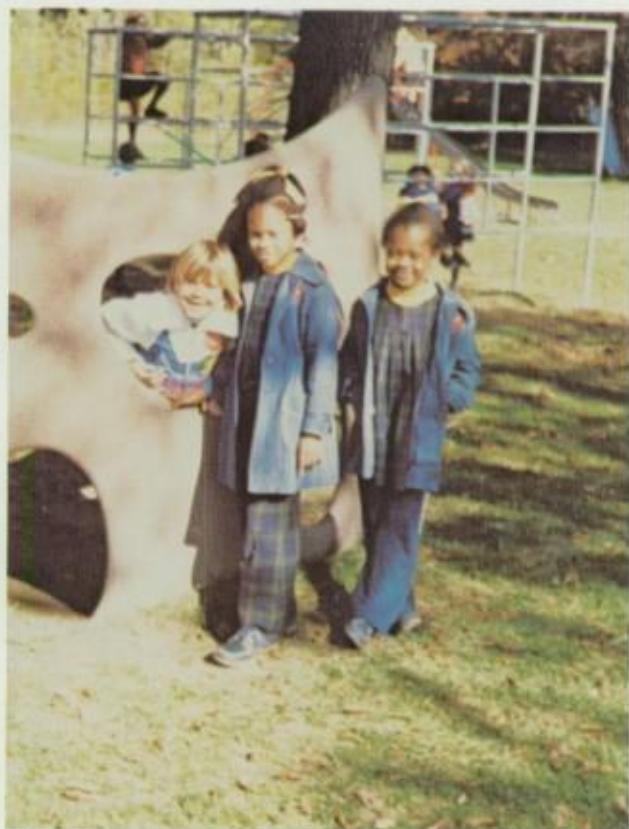

What's the use of happiness,
if you can not share it?

What's the use of laughing,
if you can not share it?

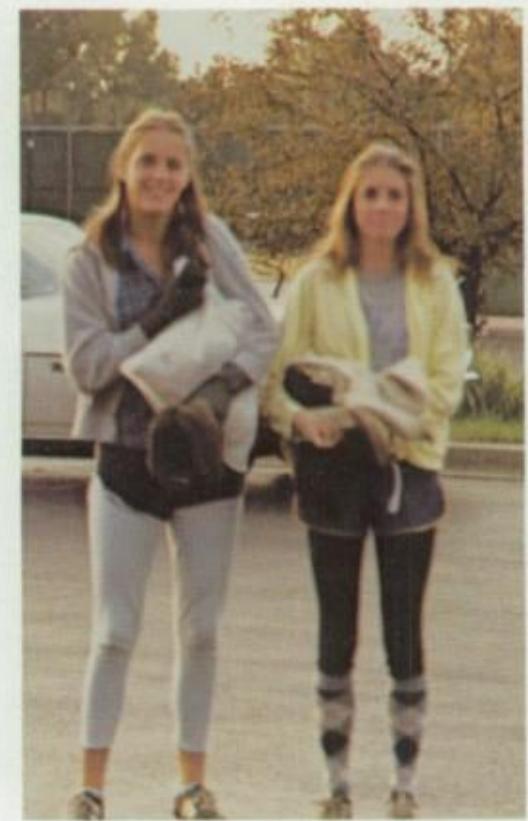

Without friends to be there,
what's the use of anything?

Friends to talk to—laugh with—share problems with—share everything with.

Without this sense of togetherness,
Without this sense of friends,
What's the use of anything?

Office of Admissions, Public Relations, Development and Alumnae Affairs

The Office of Admissions, Public Relations, Development and Alumnae Affairs plays a very important role at the Academy of the Sacred Heart. This office is responsible for handling all aspects of the admissions process with the exception of conducting personal interviews. The major tasks of public relations are to make our school known in the wider community by maintaining a flow of information to the metropolitan-Detroit media and to work within the school "family" to project a positive image of Sacred Heart. Development entails responsibility for the future growth and strength of the Academy by raising funds through an annual giving program, corporate and foundations support, and endowment plan, and capital campaigns. The Alumnae Affairs department seeks to build and renew alumnae relationships with the Academy through newsletters, the Annual Giving Program, and general communication with graduates of our school. The Office of Admissions, Public Relations, Development and Alumnae Affairs is headed by Mrs. Carol Kerr. She is assisted by Mrs. Alicia Gillette in public relations and Mrs. Mary Jo Dawson in development and alumnae affairs. Mrs. Angie Golec is secretary for the entire office.

Parents Board

An intrical part of the Sacred Heart Family is the Parents Board. Funds which the Board has raised during the school year through dues and school events sponsored by the Parents Board have helped to support the Upper School Newspaper, the Middle School Literary Publication, and other areas in the school which have needed their support. Members of the Parents Board are Mrs. Jane Balousek, Mr. Regis Bowers, Mrs. Harriet Cento, Mr. Theodore Kilar, Mrs. Jane Moore, Mr. Harry Nichols, Mrs. Joan Ortiz, Mrs. Mary Jane Schickel, Mr. Edward Costello — President, Mrs. Carol Lee Markley — Vice President, Mrs. Lois Hazell — Secretary, and Mr. Filomeno Almeida — Treasurer.

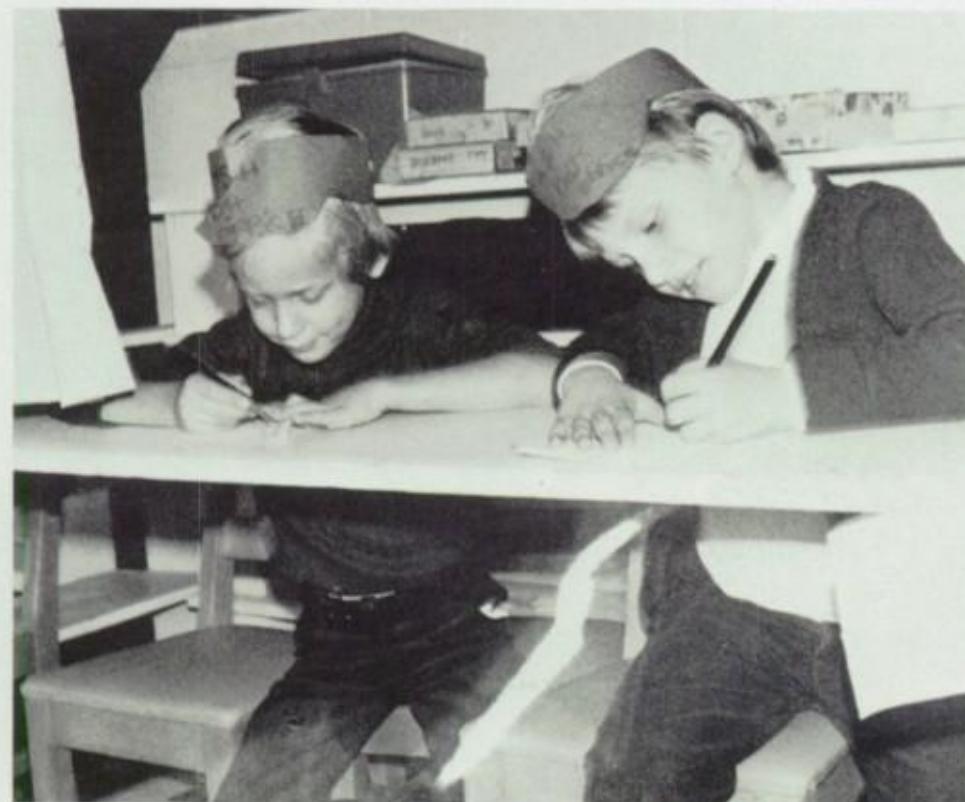

The Lower and Primary Schools are alive with active Enthusiasm. The students and teachers work together and learn in an atmosphere that flourishes with love and understanding. Each student gets the individual attention that he or she needs, but also enjoys the benefits of belonging to and participating in a large group. Some of the students of the Lower and Primary Schools describe their school lives simply as being fun.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

The Middle School is full of enthusiasm concerning their year together. The faculty, Sr. Herbst, and Middle School co-presidents Teresa Bartush and Laura Toppin have guided the fifth through eighth grade through Kris Kringle, Halloween, and "Destination Christmas." The middle schoolers were all quick to assure us that they did more than have fun. All also experienced the academic fortification that the Academy of the Sacred Heart instills in us all. More than that, each girl is taught to recognize her own self-worth as well as others. Attention is given to students as individuals who in turn offer their attention to God. Service days and masses keep alive this communication between students as Christians and those whom they encounter. It is clear that in the Middle School, thanks to all, the life force truly is love.

Wandering about to the strains of polkas, the community of the Sacred Heart celebrated their annual Oktoberfest. Joining the traditional sweets and goodies from representatives of the classes at the Academy were Sacred Heart t-shirts and sweat jackets. Along with old friends and new, this year's festivities made October eighth a memorable day.

American Experience

"You have no idea how immense this world is, how powerful and overwhelming. Strange, but it's not until you surrender to the fact that you are minutely insignificant, that you take your place in the scheme of the universe."

—Anonymous

This year's American Experience group got a taste of the reality of this quote. Traveling through Wyoming, Montana, California, Colorado, Arizona, Illinois, Oregon, Nebraska, Iowa, Utah, Idaho, Washington, and New Mexico, everyone learned a lot about themselves. Between fighting tornados and the Grand Canyon, there was time for reflection, and fear. Because of the sharing of problems, and the common feelings of unity among the group, these girls formed bonds which the elements themselves cannot destroy.

Q. "What do you get when you cross a feast day with Devil's Night?"

A. "A Halloween at ASH."

The students of Sacred Heart were exposed this year to the religious aspect of Halloween. Due to the preparations involved, we also experienced the more pagan aspects of October 31. Ghosts, goblins and bums showed up at school for classes and provided some excellent diversions for the school community. Here at ASH we get the best of both worlds!

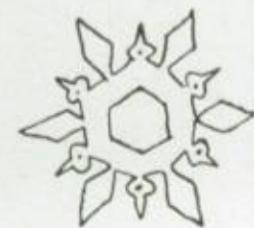

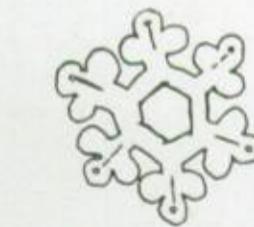

HALLOWEEN

CHRISTMAS

"Twas three weeks before Christmas
And all through the school
Not a body was resting
You had to act cool.
Kris Kringle were sneaking about here
and there,
Delivering candy and their secret wares.
The shoes were lined next to the wall with care,
In hopes that St. Byrne soon would be there.
The girls were all giggling with fright
and with glee,
"I hope Mr. Right will go dancing with me."
And suddenly that date would jump into light,
But December 20th all day and all night,
Student gift-givers all exclaimed in delight,
As their objects of giving admitted defeat.
Then all to the lunch room the Upper School did show.
The faculty, the guests of their secret arch foes.
Cookies and cakes and pies were exchanged.
Then it was late and we wafted away.
And as the last car pulled away from the lot,
A startling cry of mirth and of glee,
"How come vacation got cut so short?"

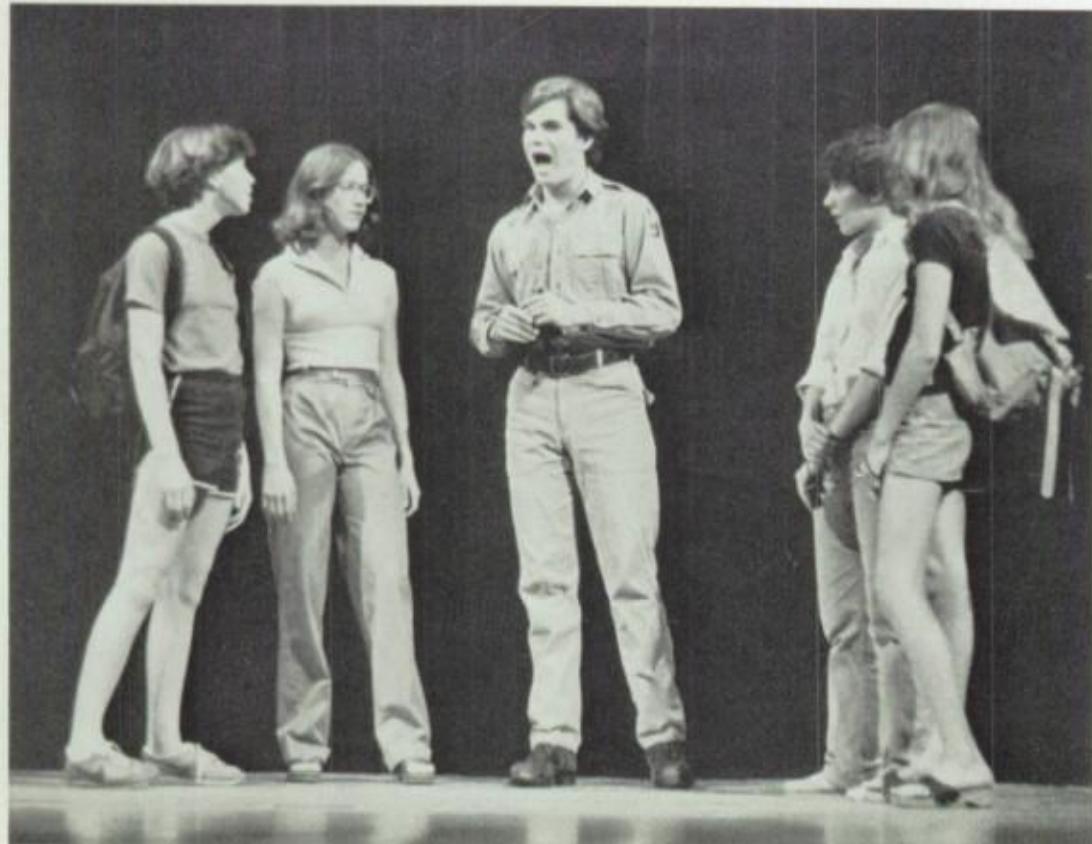

"THE MOUSE THAT ROARED"

The comedy hit of the year in Sacred Heart circles was definitely "The Mouse That Roared." Brother Rice contributed to this work; some of their most aspiring young actors: Chris Lynch, Peter Darin, and Ed Riley. Proving that ASH was just as talented as Rice, we produced our very own Maryanna Donaldson, along with a cast strongly supported by the Upper School. Mr. Guy Morel also from Rice, was the director, and we at Sacred Heart owe much of our success to him. In the words of a star-struck fan, the winter production at Sacred Heart was " . . . a roarin' success."

"The Music Man"

Mr. Morel, from Brother Rice directed the Spring Musical "The Music Man." It told the story of a hardcore con man, and how he succumbs to the charms of a small town librarian. The cast of 45 is led by Lisa Sehn and Monie West from Sacred Heart and Jim Riley and Pete Darin from Brother Rice. This production ran from March 22 through March 24 and was a great success.

This February, the Upper School, due to the work of the Taking Advantage of Detroit Group, went on a trip to discover the city of Detroit. To prepare us for the journey, a number of speakers came to ASH to inform us of different aspects of Detroit. When the time came for us to leave school, we left in buses, some headed for the Renaissance Center, and others headed for The Murphy Hall of Justice, Smith Hingeman and Grills, and The Detroit Free Press. All went on tours, and then returned to explore the different shops and levels that the complex had to offer. In the afternoon, those groups who had toured the Ren Cen that morning were taken to destinations such as The Money Bank, and the Detroit Police Department. When the day came to an end, we all returned to Sacred Heart, both faculty and student, with a new memory to last for years to come.

Band and Choral

"And the band plays on." (So does the choir for that matter.) The 1978-79 school year showed the community around Sacred Heart a band full of spirit, a middle school choir of over seventy members, and an upper school choir which sang in three-part harmony. Ms. Barbara Exline showed off her musical prodigees in solo and ensemble, band competition, at Somerset Mall, the spring concert, the fall concert, at liturgies, weddings, and more. The music program is continually growing and reaching more people with their talent. Sacred Heart stands behind the band and choirs as they "teach the world to sing."

DECLARATION OF STUDENT COMMUNITY GOVERNANCE

In the course of events of a changing world and society, it becomes necessary to develop and expand programs which enable the spirit of the Sacred Heart to further nurture and promote the growth of persons to their full stature as human beings. Based on the fundamental conviction that to be human is to search for life's meaning, which the believer affirms is intimately related to the mystery of God, and which the Christian finds most fully revealed in Jesus Christ, the Sacred Heart educational community at Bloomfield Hills seeks to educate to a faith which is relevant in a secularized world, to a deep respect for intellectual values, to a social awareness which impels to action, to the building of community as a Christian value, and to personal growth in an atmosphere of wise freedom. In such a learning environment, each student becomes increasingly responsible for herself, her work and her world. In order to insure that each student is able to assume her responsibilities, the Student Community Governance program is designed to involve the total school community to fully develop the potential of every student in the areas of leadership, scholarship, and creativity. By means of a system of groups, the School Community Governance program will build and maintain community at the Academy of the Sacred Heart. Through this program, the principles of knowledge, fair distribution of responsibility, self-government, learning for life, community, and self expression will be realized by each person.

Therefore, we, the members of the Upper School Community of the Bloomfield Hills Academy of the Sacred Heart, with a firm belief in the goals, principles, values and criteria of School Community Governance, do hereby announce and pledge our allegiance and support to the Student Community Governance program.

SCG Nucleus

In our second year of SCG, the Nucleus group has been hard at work continuing patterns established last year and adding new ones as well . . . (an example, ask the group leaders about minutes!). We have also been busy reviewing the proposals and "helicoptering" to each group. This year for us has been a great success thanks to each member of the faculty and student body.

Standing: Adrienne Roberto, Julie Maloney, Paula Goodwin Sitting: Crystal Glass, Mrs. Thornberry.

Newspaper

As an SCG Group for the first year, the newspaper staff has tried to make the paper appeal to all groups in the school; the Primary, Lower, Middle and Upper. It has tried to open up new lines of communication. Middle schoolers have contributed articles. Features on the other schools have been written.

The newspaper staff has interviewed exchange students, written articles on controversy and unrest, offered congratulations to many and included numerous features, such as, reviews and poetry. We hope that everyone can find something in the paper they like, and that the staff provided the school with both an informative and fun outlet.

Career Education and Student Exchange

This SCG group prepared assemblies on different careers for women and on other schools within the Sacred Heart network. Along with only Sacred Heart students, the group raised money to help build a library in Kenya. Students gathered information from schools and designed informative bulletin boards.

Sitting: Mrs. Currier, Sue Campbell, Mary Kate Heffernan (group leader), Jennifer Hill. Standing: Pam Bishop, Mary Garske, Leslie Evans, Anne Stewart, Colleen Graham, Sophie Van de Kerckhof.

Youths Involved in Politics

Youths Involved in Politics helps to inform the rest of the school on important issues such as political proposals, price increases, and problems like political tortures.

Sitting: Sarah Gray, Julie Gonzalez, Cathy Cooney, Liz Latos. Standing: Ann Miller, Angie Belanger, Mrs. Enlow, Mary Kuryla (group leader), Eileen Callam.

Taking Advantage of Metro Detroit

The SCG group, Taking Advantage of Metro-Detroit, is a group of enthusiastic students who really took an interest in the re-birth of Detroit. This group acts as an information center for the student body about cultural events going on in and around Detroit. This group also planned a day excursion for the Upper School to visit and experience Detroit first hand. The trip focused on the Renaissance Center with sidetrips to Murphy Hall of Justice, Detroit Police Department, Hinchman and Grills, the Money Bank, and the Detroit City County Building. This SCG group worked hard on this project and with help from Sr. Byrne, the students and the faculty, we as a school enjoyed taking advantage of Detroit.

Standing: Sr. Cherry, Brenda Hazel, Lisa Burgess, LaShelle Chambers. Sitting: Fay Gregory, Valeon Breeden, Kelly Montgomery, Joya Harris (group leader). Kneeling: Maria Cancro, Sandy Samul, Jackie Sosa, Amelie von Wiedenback, Beth Bowers.

Standing: Karen Shannon, Marielle Van de Kerckhof, Alex Korab, Kim Lang, Michelle Nordin, Holly Pancost, Puran Ramin, Mrs. Herr. Sitting: Liz Miller, Lynn Nichols (group leader), Michelle Bellanger, Molly Juett. Missing: Diana Herdon.

Special Activities

The Special Activities Group was formed to maintain the Sacred Heart traditions through its various events. This year, the group organized a Faculty-Student Dress-Up Luncheon, a Silent Movie Lunch, the Christmas Feast Wishes, Mardi Gras combined with Class Color Day, and St. Madeline Sophie's Congé. In this way, the Special Activities Group furthered school spirit and unity among faculty and student body.

Inter-School Activities

This SCG group participates in the All-School Board with Marian, UofD, Brother Rice, Mercy, and Catholic Central. Its purpose is to try to coordinate activities between the schools. The group has produced a calendar of activities each month, with special designs for Christmas, Valentines Day, and St. Patricks Day. The group also has helped advertise and sell tickets for our school plays in December and March.

Standing: Sr. Kearins, Lisa Mancini, Julie Dunlop (group leader), Susan Beauregard, Nadine Deocampo. Sitting: Diane Dolinshek, Monie West, Josie Sosa, Pam Lopez, Lisa Wilson.

Standing: Marie Sienkowski, Jeannine Palma, Therese Deocampo (group leader). Sitting: Miss Cserhalmi, Tammy Wilkinson, Marjan Panah, Heather Luke.

Justice for the Poor

The activities of the group, Justice for Poor, have focused on projects that benefit the needs of our community. We have sponsored Hu Days and a Food Drive. In the spring, we will be involved in an evaluation of this year's Community Service Program, as well as organizing a clothing drive.

Standing: Madeline Miehls, Tracy Kilar, Carla Jedd, Loren Rosenberg (group leader), Judy Appleford, Mary Jo Hackett. Sitting: Lisa Giannanco, Kathy Stephens, Lisa Reese, Kathy McBrearty. Missing: Mrs. Kaplan.

Indoor Environment

The SCG group, Indoor Environment, has worked to improve the interior of the school. We have investigated the requisition of a fruit juice machine which we feel will be beneficial to the entire student body, and the faculty. The group has learned to share their ideas freely and to work effectively within a large group. I feel we have come a long way since the fall. Congratulations group.

Standing: Miss Dritsas, Mary Witt, Mary Kay Heffernan, Sarah Lowell, Meg Brennen, Laurie Federhart, Tracy Gibbs (group leader). Sitting: Sue McBrearty, Pazzy Salas, Patty Spina, Natalie Follmer, Andrea Falls.

Athletic Activities

The objective of Athletic Activities is to build enthusiasm concerning the sports activities in the school. In 1978-79, Athletic Activities has worked on earning money for bleachers, sponsoring pep-rallies, revising the Athletic Award System, and planning a faculty-student basketball game. The spirit of this last event was terrific; the Varsity Team, the Faculty, and the Student Body all enjoyed the occasion.

Project Term

Project Term is a ten day period in which students endeavor to experience things which they cannot always experience in the classroom. The purpose of this group is to plan these projects so that students may benefit from them in every aspect. This year, students will travel as far as Alabama, New York, Williamsburg, Minnesota, and Québec. Others will stay home and develop skills in photography, dance, communications, computer programming, drama and jewelry. Some students will work on individual projects which were in part coordinated by students and faculty. I would like to thank all those who helped to make Project Term a success, especially Miss Worack.

Outdoor Environment

Outdoor Environment works to make improvements on the grounds of the Academy. Picnic tables and an ice skating rink were proposed.

Social Committee

Social Committee plans and organizes dances for the school. This year the group planned a variety of dances, including soc-hops, discos, and for the first time, a computer dance. The group also designed and organized the Spring Prom. Social Committee worked with the neighboring Catholic Schools such as Brother Rice, Catholic Central, Marian Mercy and U. of D., to help avoid planning social activities on the same date. Although Social Committee is responsible for arranging the dances, they could not have been successful without the encouragement and support from Sr. Byrne, Mrs. Wilson, and the parents and teachers who helped by chaperoning at the dances.

Liturgy

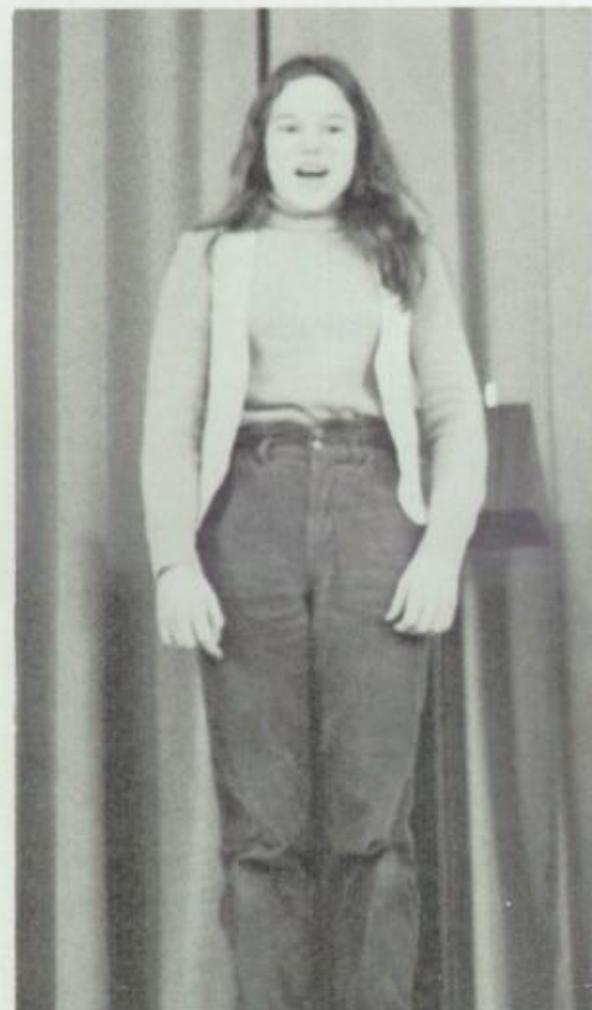

The Liturgy group plans and prepares weekly prayer services as well as seasonal liturgies. Scripture, poems, famous sayings and songs are used in our prayer together. Students as well as faculty are asked to speak about their religious experiences. The Liturgy group tries very hard to unite the students and to involve them in the prayer services and the Liturgies.

Curriculum

The Curriculum Group has a different twist to it this year. We have decided to make learning fun! We have sponsored High School Discovery Day, and provide punch and cookies during the days of finals. We are introducing a speech contest which we hope will become a Sacred Heart tradition.

Yearbook

"When I was elected editor last spring, I never knew what I was in for. I figured it would be a good experience. I was right. Our inexperience and a very limited number of people working really hindered us at first. As time went on it did not even phase us any more. We just had to get it done, no matter what. With many nights of hard work and crazy moments, we finished the book. It was a hard task and I thank everyone who helped out."

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a nation-wide group of students chosen for their outstanding qualities of leadership, scholarship, service, and character. Members are required to maintain grade point average of 3.4 and are eligible for membership in the second, third, and fourth academic. On February 7 of this year, the parents, faculty, and students gathered during an assembly to honor the new members chosen this year as well as the current members.

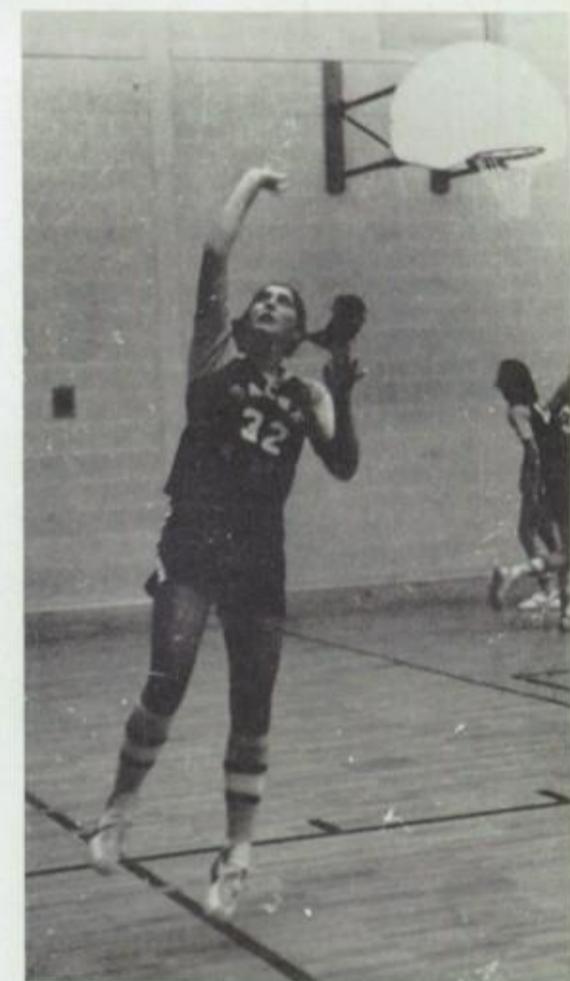

SPORTS

The tennis team is best described as a "family." We are not many in number, but we play an important part in the ASH sports program. With only three returning members, building and growing was our main objective this year. We ended the season with a record of three wins and five losses. Our statistics do not reveal how hard we worked or how close each individual match was. Much improvement was evident throughout our long season (We began tryouts before school started!). Special congratulations to "old-timer" Marita Aragones who was awarded an honorable mention on the All-Area Observer/Eccentric team. We would like to thank our few (but loyal) fans who helped keep up our morale! Special thanks to our coach, Sr. Anne Byrne, for all the help and time she gave to us. (When the lights go up in the morning . . .)

Field hockey season closed with a good record for Sacred Heart players. Varsity ended with 4 wins, 3 loses, and 3 ties. JV ended with a fantastic 7 wins, only 2 losses and 1 tie. The school interest in this sport remained strong throughout the year. So strong in fact, that both Reserve Teams, I and II were fully stocked with players. The Varsity and JV Teams were under the guidance of our one and only Ms. Dritsas. The Reserve Teams were coached by Miss Mulane.

Volleyball

Although the season started slowly, the volleyball team ended up with their best record ever. They surpassed this feat by winning the district tournament. Ms. Dritsas and the team would like to express their appreciation to Mr. Gordie Richardson. He came with dedication, great enthusiasm, and "intensity," which helped the Varsity team.

The Junior Varsity team had promising young athletes. They did not win as many games as they would have liked, but improved throughout the season and showed much effort during their season.

The Exchange Program gives students an opportunity to attend a Sacred Heart School outside of Michigan, and a number of schools outside of the country. Exchange lasts for one trimester or term, and is open only to students of Third and Fourth Academic Classes. To go on exchange, one must decide on a school, fill out the necessary forms, have parent's permission, and be approved by the faculty. One of the largest problems facing the Exchange Program, is finding host families to accommodate the exchange students. There is a new idea being considered where the students will stay with one family for a month, and then move on to another family. Hopefully, this will encourage more families to open up to the Exchange Program.

JUNIORS

This year's Junior class enthusiastically began its third year together with all of us looking forward to the year ahead. Responsibilities were given to each girl which helped us develop leadership qualities and, more importantly, helped us become well-rounded individuals. Some of the privileges we earned were permission to leave campus during free hours and our class rings. There are many class activities planned in the coming year; the senior class gift, class prophesies; and, of course, the yearbook. If there is one thing the 1979 Junior class will be remembered for it is our class spirit.

In the morning . . . Bye-Bye.*

There is no beauty in a single tree
There is no beauty in a blade of grass
Or the rusty dirt beneath your feet
There is no beauty in the sun
Until . . .
Apollo bursts forth, and the sun shines in all its glory
The golden hue touches the grass, The soil
The trees
Lacy tendrils of the branches come
Holding glimmering balls of fire
The grass suspends crystalline magic in the Anonymous form of dew
A lesson from this to all man-kind
Bear with a weary old poet
Alone, a blessing, a grace, a gift
Is but a dull, still sight
Until . . .
Working together through love and hate
Fighting for admiration
God finds more beauty in his world together
Than the asenine kingdom of I
